

FFA'S TICKET CONDITION

It is an essential condition of the right of admission to the Event conferred on the holder of a ticket that you and each subsequent holder of the ticket agrees with FFA:

- (a) not to resell or transfer, or attempt to resell or transfer, the ticket at a premium;
- (b) not to use it for advertising, promotion or other commercial purposes (including competitions and trade promotions) or to enhance the demand for other goods or services; and
- (c) not to bundle it with other goods or services, without FFA's prior written consent. If this condition is breached, FFA may, in addition to any other remedy and even if the holder of the ticket did not have notice of the condition or the breach, deny the holder admission to the match and retain the price of the ticket.

Photographs taken within the venue may be used only for private and non-commercial purposes. For the avoidance of doubt, commercial purposes include sale of photographs on the internet, licensing, merchandising, memorabilia or marketing. Making or distribution of broadcasts, commentary, news reports or statistics (by any means in any format or media including any such commentary made by mobile phone or other wireless device) is prohibited.

The ticket shall not be refunded or exchanged except in accordance with the "Code of Practice for the Ticketing of Live Entertainment in Australia" (Code). Other than any ticket refund in accordance with the Code, to the extent permitted by law, FFA is not liable to any person for any loss (including consequential loss) arising out of, or in connection with the cancellation or rescheduling of an FFA event.. A copy of the Code is available at www.liveperformance.com.au

Patrons agree to comply with FFA's Spectator Code of Behaviour, a copy of which is available on www.footballaustralia.com.au or on request.
